

TARIFF BOARD
BILL REVIVESVote To Be Taken On It In
Senate Tomorrow Morning

THE OPPOSITION WAVERS

The Decision to Vote To-morrow Was Reached at 4 O'clock This Morning,
After Many Weary Hours of Filibustering.

Washington, D. C., March 3.—Order out of chaos was brought at 3:05 this morning when the Senate, after listening to many hours of filibustering, reached an agreement that at 8:30 o'clock Saturday morning a vote would be taken on the bill to create a permanent tariff board. What had been supposed to be the death knell for this measure had been sounded several hours before that. Unfamiliarity with the rules of the Senate on the part of the men who were engineering the obstructive tactics was responsible for the crumbling of the opposition.

After taking that action the Senate adjourned at 4 o'clock until 10 this forenoon. When Vice President Sherman called the Senate together at the latter hour an even score of senators faced him. There was some delay, and then the sundry civil bill was read.

Senator Cullerhouse offered an amendment to the bill, providing that the tariff bureau must report to Congress the first Monday in December on iron and steel, cotton and cotton manufactures and wool and woolen manufactures. The amendment was defeated by a vote of 43 to 40. Then, shortly before 1 o'clock this afternoon, the bill was passed.

Post Office Appropriations Bill.

The consideration of the bill to create a tariff board was started at 12:30 this morning, after the early part of about eight hours spent on the post office appropriation bill, which was laid away at that time in an uncompleted state. Senator Hale wanted the Senate to proceed with the appropriation bill, opposing Senator Beveridge, who pressed for consideration of the unfinished business, the tariff board bill. It became necessary to vote on the dispute, and Senator Beveridge won, 37 to 26.

Besides the consideration of the post office appropriation bill, the Senate yesterday took up and passed the pensions, diplomatic and consular, fortifications and military academy bill. The Democrats offered no objections to the pension bill carrying $153,000,000 until Senator Scott attempted to put the Sulloway general service pension bill on the appropriation measure as a rider.

The Sulloway bill, which would cost $30,000,000 to the annual roll and would grant pensions indiscriminately to all veterans of the Civil war who had served 90 days and had reached the age of 62 years.

Senator Lodge made a point of order against the amendment, declaring it to be an attempt to put general legislation on an appropriation bill. While the point was pending, Senator Curtis pleaded for the adoption of the amendment. He declared it to be but an act of justice to the old soldiers. Vice President Sherman sustained the point of order, and the regular appropriation bill was passed.

Following the disposition of the pension bill, the Senate in fifteen minutes disposed of the diplomatic and consular bill, carrying about $4,000,000. The fortification bill carrying $5,000,000. This was the only work for Senator Owen, and when the military academy appropriation bill was taken up he began a little filibuster all his own, insisting on the formal reading of the bill of 34 pages. A number of Democrats and Republicans pleaded with him not to stand in the way of the supply bills, but Mr. Owen said he wanted to force an extra session.

The reading clerk, "through pure inadvertence" overlooked about fifteen pages of the bill, and the first thing Senator Owen knew the bill was being read a second time for amendment, and Mr. Owen declared he knew the reading clerk was the finest reader in the world. Along toward six o'clock when it was announced that a recess until 8:15 would be asked for, Senator Owen said he would let the military academy bill pass. "But," he added, "if these big bills are to be hurried through in this fashion, I shall insist that every item in each bill be separately read and separately voted upon."

EXTRA SESSION OF CONGRESS MARCH 15

All Hope of Getting Reciprocity Measure Through Before Congress Adjourns Abandoned, So President Considers Date.

Washington, D. C., March 3.—Eleven days after Congress adjourns to-morrow, it will probably be called together in an extra session. March 15 was the date given to-day at the White House as the time which the president in all probability would select for the opening of the extra session. Practically all hope has been abandoned by the administration of getting the reciprocity measure through before Congress adjourns.

Charles Cressaty Held in $300.

Burlington, March 3.—Charles Cressaty, a Syrian and a resident of Pasadena, Cal., was yesterday arraigned in the U. S. circuit court on a charge of smuggling goods into this country from Paris. He pleaded not guilty and furnished bail in $300. The goods brought by Mr. Cressaty were auctioned off here Wednesday and brought $4,112.

FULL OF ENTHUSIASM.

Acting President Lyman of the University of Vermont Returns.

Elias Lyman, acting president of the university of Vermont, who returned to Burlington Wednesday from a trip, during which he visited several men who are mentioned for the presidency, told of his findings as follows:—
"I visited Chicago, Cincinnati and other cities of the middle West," said Mr. Lyman, "and everywhere I was impressed with the excellent standing in which the university of Vermont is held. I was able to interview some of the most prominent educational leaders in the cities visited and succeeded in getting three of four of the men whom the committee has in mind for president to agree to visit Burlington soon and look over the situation."

"I am unable to make public the names of the prospective men," continued Mr. Lyman, "as it would not only be a violation of confidence but would be undesirable and unwise at this time to do so."

"I will say, however, as I have said before, that all of the men under consideration are splendidly equipped for the position and any one of them would make a worthy successor to President Buckham. It is expected that these possibilities will visit Burlington during the present month and it is more than likely that a decision will be reached as early as May 1. I would very much like to see the new president inaugurated at the next commencement."

Mr. Lyman was greeted with enthusiasm at the alumni association banquet at which he and other members of the committee attended in New York, Boston and Washington, and he said that friends of the university were watching closely the progress in the selection of president.

255 VOTERS DISFRANCHISED

For Failure to Pay Taxes in St. Albans—Come From All Classes.

St. Albans, March 3.—The board of city hall yesterday afternoon, correcting and revising the check list for use at the annual city election next Tuesday. Only eight additions, mostly young men, recently of age, were made to the list, but a wholesale slaughter came when the tax collector made his report. Two hundred and fifty-five names in all of delinquents, who had either refused or neglected to pay their taxes, and the undesirable letters "D. T." placed against their names in red ink, and will be prohibited from voting unless they pay up. The delinquents come from all classes, including business and professional men, as well as laborers, and present a surprising showing. The delinquents in the various wards follow: Ward 1, six; ward 2, forty-three; ward 3, ninety-nine; ward 4, fourteen; ward 5, twenty; ward 6, seventy-three; total, 255.

GRANITE SUIT DISMISSED.

That of Isaac C. Ellis vs. Swan Granite Company.

Providence, R. I., March 3.—A decision of much interest to granite quarry men in Western was reached yesterday, when the trespass and ejectment of Isaac C. Ellis vs. the Swan Granite company was thrown out by the Washington county superior court at West Kingston.

In the case, which was begun Wednesday, the defendant sought to recover possession of large quarries in the town of Richmond, claiming that some 16 years ago he leased to the company certain ledges on his farm there to quarry granite. He declared that the company had never begun operations and sought to have them ousted from possession.

DIED ON CHURCH STEPS.

Mary Moylan, Aged 50, Was About to Enter the Edifice.

Burlington, March 3.—Stricken with heart failure just as she was about to cross the threshold of the confessional in the chapel of St. Mary's cathedral, Miss Mary Moylan, 50 years of age, last night fell to the floor and expired, almost before a priest could reach her side.

Miss Moylan was employed at the residence of Gen. T. S. Peck.

WILLIAMSTOWN.

Marshall Jackson is critically ill with pneumonia.

Mr. Elmore's private dancing class will meet on Saturday evening this week.

There will be communion service at the Methodist church Sunday morning. Offerings will be received this month at the Congregational church for the American Missionary association.

C. M. Seaver has returned from Springfield, Mass., where he went to attend the funeral of Mrs. Laird.

The union chorus will meet Monday evening. The election of officers, deferred from last week, will be taken up.

SALOONS OR NO SALOONS.

[Communicated.]

From the report of the superintendent of the poor, Barre City:—

1903 Saloon open May 1, 1903 to May 1, 1905..... $3,329.15

1904, open saloon..... 5,646.29

Increase one year of saloon..... 2,300.00

1905, a strike year..... 4,400.61

1906, no saloon..... 1,243.00

Decrease over 1904..... 4,789.51

Saloon open May, 1907, to May, 1908..... 5,738.00

Increase for saloon over 1906..... 1,288.00

1909, no saloon..... 4,682.15

Saving over 1908..... 1,125.00

1910, lockout year..... 4,789.51

Taking into account the increase of population, it is fair to say that open saloons cost the city of Barre, for care of poor alone, in the vicinity of $1,500.00 a year.

"BUMPER" IS
IN DISPUTESouth Ryegate Cutters Wish
To Bar Its Use

100 CUTTERS QUIT WORK

The Same Machine Is Causing Discard at Milford, N. H.—Strike on at Pittsfield—No Settlement at Cape Ann.

South Ryegate, March 3.—After two days suspension in the granite business here, the conditions do not look very favorable to speedy settlement of the dispute, the main trouble being over the use of the "bumper," although a new complication has arisen over wages. One hundred granite cutters employed by ten firms are out and have been out since Wednesday morning, when the old agreement expired. The quarries are operating because an agreement in that branch of the industry was reached several months ago, whereby the quarry workers should get 26 cents an hour for the next two years and 27 cents the three years thereafter.

The cutters wish to throw out the use of the "bumper" until such time as a device shall be presented to do away with the dust nuisance. The manufacturers proposed that the machine should be used but that it should be placed outside the cutting shed. It is said that the cutters were at first willing to accept $3.25 a day but have since changed to demand $3.28. The South Ryegate cutters are separate from the Hardwick agreement, where there is a suspension.

GRANITE DISPUTE
IN VARIOUS TOWNSTrouble With Quarry Workers at Cape
Ann, Over Bumper at Milford,
N. H., and Wage Demand
at Pittsfield, N. H.

Gloucester, Mass., March 3.—There is no change in the strike of the granite workers on the north side of the cape. The majority of the workmen reside at Bay View and Lanesville. Meetings were held at the Elm hall, Lanesville, but as far as any outward indication of a strike is concerned the aspect is as quiet as that of a country village. The quarries, it is stated, are the key of the situation. They want 25 cents flat for all men. The Rockport granite company offers 24 cents for skilled men and 22 cents for unskilled. The stone workers have been conceded 40 cents an hour, which is asked to be generally satisfactory. They are in addition a six months' Saturday half-holiday, with full pay, which the company is disinclined to concede. After 1913 this Saturday half-holiday will be conceded anywhere. A compromise may be made on three months, June, July and August.

Milford, N. H., March 3.—Several conferences were held yesterday between the committee representing the Granite Manufacturers' association and the stone cutters' union, but no settlement was made. The chief bar to settlement is a machine known as a "bumper," which the stone cutters want to eliminate from the sheds, but the manufacturers want to retain it.

Pittsfield, N. H., March 3.—The granite dealers of this town, who have been considering a bill of prices asked by the granite workmen's union, decided to refuse the wages asked, and the men have gone on a strike. It is reported that the men wanted $3.36 a day and with full pay Saturday and a half holiday.

FLURRY AT QUINCY.

High-paid Polishers Objected to Method of Payment.

Quincy, Mass., March 3.—There was some little trouble in one of the polishing mills at South Quincy on Wednesday, and as a result part of the men walked out. Under the new bill of prices, which went into effect Wednesday, all of the polishers were to receive an increase of 25 cents per day. In the case of this firm, it is claimed that those who were receiving the minimum wage received the increase, but that when it came to the high price men the boss informed them that they were to receive an increase of but fifteen cents per day.

Not being satisfied with this, they left work, claiming that under the new bill the increase of 25 cents per day was to be paid to all employees, whether they were minimum men or high-price men. None but the high-price men quit work, as the others were receiving the full amount of the increase.

BIG STRIKE IN NEW YORK AND JERSEY CITYAlmost 1,000 Drivers and Helpers of Express Co. Out Because Man Three Years in Employment, Instead of Twenty, Was Promoted.

New York, March 3.—Nearly a thousand drivers and helpers of the United States Express company here and in Jersey City struck this morning, pending an adjustment of a grievance, which is expected to be considered later today by the company officials. The trouble arose over the appointment of one of the drivers, who had been three years in the company's service, to a position as driver of the money wagon.

The men contend that the appointment was due to a driver in the service twenty years.

CRUSHED TO DEATH
UNDER COAL CARJohn Smith, Old Employee of Central Vermont R. R., Killed at St. Albans Last Evening.

St. Albans, March 3.—John Smith, water service foreman of the Central Vermont railway, died at the St. Albans hospital last evening at 6:25 o'clock, when he was run over by a switching train.

Mr. Smith had started to cross the tracks, just north of the roundhouse, and apparently neither saw nor heard the approaching train of coal cars, being pushed by an engine. The leading car struck and knocked him under the wheels, the forward trucks passing over his left leg, nearly severing it from the body. He was then caught by the hopper, hanging underneath the car, and was dragged and rolled for about a hundred feet before the train was stopped.

A large force of men from the roundhouse and yards rushed to his assistance, but he was so tightly wedged and jammed that the car had to be jacked up before the body could be taken out. Dr. Davidson, the railway's surgeon, and an ambulance were rushed to the scene and he was taken to the hospital, where every effort was made to relieve his suffering. The shock was so great and his vitality so low from excessive loss of blood, that the surgeons did not operate, and the end came at an hour and a half after the accident.

Mr. Smith was one of the oldest and most valued of the employees of the road, having been with it for about 10 years, during which time he had had charge of all details of its water service, of which he had made a life-long study and on which he was an authority.

Mr. Smith, who was about 45 years old, leaves besides a wife two children, Mrs. Frank Blake of this city and Thomas Smith of Whitehall, N. Y. He also leaves two stepchildren, Miss Mary Kennedy and John Kennedy.

WASHINGTON COUNTY RECORD.

There Were 528 Deer Legally Killed in County During 1910 Season.

State Fish and Game Commissioner Tibbitts has prepared a statement of deer killed in Washington county during the 1910 open season and reported to him, showing a total of 528, of which 279 were does. It is the desire of the commissioner to get the statistics compiled accurately. Any person discovering errors or omissions in the list will confer a favor by calling same to the attention of the state fish and game commissioner, Lyndonville, Vt.

DEATH OF A. C. ROBINSON.

Prominent Westford Man a Justice of the Peace 48 Years.

Westford, March 3.—Arthur C. Robinson died at his home yesterday. He was the son of Joseph and Aurelia Robinson and was born in Fairfax, February 15, 1839. When quite young he moved with his parents to Underhill, where he spent his younger days. In 1867 he moved to the farm in Westford on which he had since resided.

Mr. Robinson had held various town offices and represented his town in the legislature from 1874 and was state senator in 1880. He had been justice of the peace 48 consecutive years.

Besides one brother, Fillmore J. Robinson of North Underhill, he is survived by three sons and three daughters, George C. Robinson of West Rutland, Mortimer C. Robinson of Philadelphia, and Birney A. Robinson of Newtonville, Mass. The daughters are Adell, wife of Burton C. Fiske of Worcester, Mass.; Minnie E. wife of Fletcher D. Proctor of Proctor, and Bertha, wife of Harry E. Shiland of Flint, Mich.

The funeral will be held at the house Saturday morning at eleven o'clock with burial in the family lot in Underhill.

DEATH OF CLERGYMAN.

Rev. George L. Wells of Hardwick
Passed Away To-day.

Hardwick, March 3.—Rev. George L. Wells, who for many years was a well-known Methodist clergyman, died this morning of heart failure at the home of his son, Ernest L. Wells, with whom he had made his home since retiring from the ministry a few years ago. Rev. Mr. Wells was born in Hardwick, 84 years ago. He did not enter the ministry until about 20 years ago. Previous to that he had been engaged in farming in this town. The parishes in which he was pastor were Williamsboro, Marshfield, Waitsfield, Sheffield, Wheelock and East Montpelier.

He married Cordelia A. Conant, who died three years ago. Her father, James Conant, was one of the first settlers in Hardwick. Mr. Wells is survived by three sons, Edward G. Wells of Barre, William H. Wells of Newbury and Ernest L. Wells of Hardwick. The funeral services will be held from the Methodist church Sunday at 3 o'clock. The interment will be in the village cemetery.

Greensboro Man Sued.

Burlington, March 3.—Homer J. Tilton of this city yesterday entered suit in Chittenden county court against Robert J. Shurtleff of Greensboro. The action is in and assumpsit and the ad damnum is $6,000. Melvin G. Morse appears for the plaintiff.

SHERIFF BACK
WITH PRISONERJohn Imperial, Barre Quarry-man, Admitted Identity

WHEN THE OFFICER CAME

Before That He Had Denied That He Ever Was in Vermont—Will Be Held for Stabbing Edward McGlynn.

Chelsea, March 3.—Sheriff B. H. Adams returned last night from Springfield, Mass., bringing John Imperial, the man arrested at Monson, Mass., on the charge of stabbing Edward McGlynn, a Barre quarry worker, on July 11. Imperial waived his right to demand requisition papers from Vermont.

Up to the time of the arrival of Sheriff Adams, the man under arrest had denied that he ever was in Vermont; but when he was confronted by the sheriff he willed and admitted that he was the man the officers were looking for, claiming that he did the stabbing in self-defense. Sheriff Adams was notified over the telephone by the Wood Detective agency of Boston that the suspected Imperial was under arrest and was asked if he could identify the man wanted. Sheriff Adams said he could identify the man, and he went to Springfield Wednesday night, being met by Thomas D. High of the state police. The identification was at once made.

Since leaving Granville last July, Imperial has been working in a quarry at Monson, running a steam drill, his family having taken up their residence there also.

TWO CONTEMPT

CASES HEARD

Before Judge Stanton in Washington County Court at Montpelier To-

Daniel McCarthy of Northfield was arraigned before Judge Stanton in the county court room at Montpelier today on the charge of contempt of court, in being alleged that McCarthy violated the terms of an injunction. F. A. Joslyn of Northfield had an injunction served on McCarthy on February 14, forbidding him from drawing wood across land owned by Joslyn. It is claimed that on the following day McCarthy continued to cross the land, and it was brought out in the partial hearing of the case to-day that McCarthy had made the assertion that nothing short of a shot gun would stop him. The case was continued until March 10 for further proof and also to ascertain the extent of damages.

Another contempt of court case was brought up for a hearing and continued until March 10. In this case it is claimed that Daniel Cubria had violated the decree of the court as regards the paying of alimony to his wife.

MORE VOTING CHANGES.

Were Made at Final Meeting of Civil Authority Board Last Night.

The last meeting of the board of civil authority before the coming city election was held in the city court room last night. The revision of the check-list was completed, and a good many voters took advantage of this last opportunity to be on the eligible list. The total number of changes and additions made last evening was 63.

The following names were added to the list in ward one: Geo. T. Brigham, C. W. Camp, Amos Cayia, A. G. Coffin, Edward Decottell, C. C. Johnson, A. C. Jones, V. S. Malnati, A. G. Miles, J. K. Morrison, James Robertson, Albert Warren, E. W. Wain.

Ward two gained the following names: W. J. M. Beattie, A. A. Boyce, S. E. Brown, A. J. Cave, Denison Densmore, Fred E. Hall, Francis B. Hathaway, H. A. Kendall, Andrew Knapp, William Milne, F. A. McCarthy, Andrew Olsen, James Tucker, Willard E. Walker, Paul W. Waterman, Norman L. York.

Additions in ward three were as follows: D. H. Barclay, E. C. Cutler, William Dewey, Richard Grigg, F. A. Hutchinsop, William Jack, A. H. Keith, H. W. Kivall, G. A. Lane, P. P. Marion, John McCall, C. H. Northrop, Domenico Paolher, Willis C. Sheridan, A. A. Stebbins, Oliver Stone, A. C. Whitney.

There are five changes in ward four, as follows: Desiderio Guidici, Frank Guidici, Gilbert Phillips, John Tosi, Jesse G. Wiley.

The names of Santino Boggi, Angelo Della Bernardina, Frank Fraquelli, Privato Negroni and Franco Polli were added to the list in ward five.

Additions to the sixth ward's list follow: John Aypiani, Harry Campbell, F. E. Cheney, Domenico Giachello, W. J. Ingalls, John Pressley, C. L. Webster.

INJURED IN A FALL.

Harry Russell, Central Vermont Yard-
Master, Much Hurt.

Harry Russell, yardmaster in the Central Vermont yard, met with an accident late yesterday afternoon at the D. M. Miles Coal company's wood shed which resulted in the fracture of his left wrist. Mr. Russell was hanging onto the end of a car, which was being run into the wood shed on the tracks of the trestle, when he stepped off from the car onto the end of a plank, which flew up and let him down through the trestle onto the ground, a distance of about ten feet. There was no wood in the shed and he struck on the frozen ground. His wrist was broken badly and his right ankle was sprained. He was taken to his home in a team.

GRANITEVILLE.

There will be a meeting of Socialists and all interested in Times' hall, Monday evening. Everybody invited.

NEARLY UNDER WHEELS.

Walter C. Washburn Had Narrow Escape on Main Street.

While in the act of alighting from a southbound car shortly before 8 o'clock this morning, Walter C. Washburn, a prominent Montpelier insurance man, also connected with the Fleischman yeast agency of that city, had a narrow escape from serious injury. Mr. Washburn had boarded the car in front of the Howland block for the purpose of sending a supply of yeast to the stores located on South Main street. As he started to step from the car he slipped, and was thrown headlong to the ground. The car was moving slowly but only by good fortune was he prevented from being dragged on the tracks. He managed to roll out of danger, and found that the accident had left him none the worse. A quantity of yeast cakes were strewn about the ground in the confusion that followed the fall.
